ABOUT THIS WINERY

The wine industry is one that has stood the test of time. Its origins date back to the beginning of civilization and has been a consistent presence throughout human existence. Brothers Fred T. and Joseph S. Franzia alongside their first cousin, John G. Franzia, know this all too well as it has been a part of their lives from the beginning. They succumbed to the industry's charms and decided to start their own company in 1973 : Bronco Wine Company.

PRODUCT NOTES

Manual harvesting, systematic crushing and destemming. Cold pre-fermentation before alcoholic fermentation. The latter is controlled by a constant temperature for an excellent work of yeasts. Aged in American oak barrels for 4 months in order to preserve the maximum fruitiness. Aromas of black cherry, raspberry and clove. Long, smooth finish with soft tannins and a racy note of French vanilla.
