ABOUT THIS WINERY

The Lavau family and its love of wine, its passion for the land and the soil began in Saint Emilion in the 19th century. The story then continued to be written in Tunisia where René Lavau and his son transformed a small property of vineyards and orange trees into a flourishing business that became the most important wine producer in the country. Back in France in the 60's, the LAVAU house was created in 1965.

PRODUCT NOTES

Manual harvesting and quick delivery to the cellar for crushing and pressing. Fermentation at low temperature. Maturing in stainless steel tanks in order to preserve all the flavors.
Nose of white flesh fruits and white flowers, with an exotic touch of mango; ample mouth, very fruity, and very slightly spicy. Nice length in the mouth.
